SAMSUNG'S ADMINISTRATIVE MOTION TO FILE UNDER SEAL
PORTIONS OF SAMSUNG'S
MOTION FOR JUDGMENT ON THE PLEADINGS REGARDING HUAWEI'S CAUSE OF ACTION
FOR DECLARATORY JUDGMENT
OF FRAND TERMS AND
CONDITIONS FOR A CROSS-
LICENSE

1 Pursuant to Civil L.R. 7-11 and 79-5, Defendants and Counterclaim-Plaintiffs Samsung
 2 Electronics Co., Ltd. and Samsung Electronics America, Inc., and Defendant Samsung Research
 3 America, Inc. (collectively “Samsung”) bring this administrative motion to file under seal limited
 4 portions of Samsung’s Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings Regarding Huawei’s Cause of
 5 Action for Declaratory Judgment of FRAND Terms and Conditions for a Cross-License
 6 (“Motion”). Samsung certifies that it has reviewed and complied with Judge Orrick’s Standing
 7 Order on Administrative Motions to File Under Seal, as well as Civil L.R. 79-5.

8 Samsung requests an order granting its motion to file under seal the materials in the

For the convenience of the Court, material in Samsung's motion over which Huawei maintains a claim of confidentiality is highlighted in yellow, material over which Samsung maintains a claim of confidentiality is highlighted in blue, and material over which both Huawei and Samsung maintain a claim of confidentiality is highlighted in green.

Dispositive motions and related materials may be sealed in the 9th Circuit upon a showing that there are "compelling reasons" to seal the information. See Kamakana v. City & Cty. of Honolulu, 447 F.3d 1172, 1178-79 (9th Cir. 2006). A party has "compelling reasons" to seal information in a filing when disclosure of that information would "release trade secrets," Kamakana, 447 F.3d at 1179, or when the material would disclose "sources of business information that might harm a litigant's competitive standing." Nixon v. Warner Commc'ns, Inc., 435 U.S. 589, 598 (1978). In this District, Civil L.R. 79-5(b) requires that the party moving to seal "establish[] that the document, or portions thereof, are privileged, protectable as a trade secret or otherwise entitled to protection under the law" and that the corresponding motion to seal "be narrowly tailored to seek sealing only of sealable material."

Samsung seeks to seal two categories of information: (1) information about the parties' negotiations positions, correspondence, and strategy, which this Court has already held are sealable under the "compelling reasons" standard, see Dkt. 270 at 3 (granting sealing because "information regarding [parties'] license negotiations" discloses "sources of business information that might harm a litigant's competitive standing"), and (2) material that Huawei has designated Highly Confidential – Attorneys' Eyes Only pursuant to the protective order. Public disclosure of the first category of information would harm Samsung's competitive standing by giving

1 asymmetrical information about Samsung's licensing strategies to other business entities. See
2 Gray Decl. ¶¶ 4-5 Huawei may also claim confidentiality over its negotiating strategies and
3 positions for similar reasons. Samsung expects that Huawei will file declarations supporting
4 sealing of its negotiating positions and information, as well as discovery it has asserted is highly
5 confidential. Samsung therefore respectfully requests that the Court order sealed the materials
6 identified above.
